

Box breathing technique

A simple technique to help promote relaxation, manage stress and reduce anxiety. Use it before bed and when necessary throughout the day.

To do it best

1. Sit comfortably.
 2. Close your eyes.
 3. Focus on the breathing sensations of each step.
- Keep each step slow, steady and 4 seconds long (use a timer to help if needed).
Do it for 2 - 5 minutes.

Inhale through your nose, slowly filling your lungs by the end of the 4 seconds

Hold your breath gently with your lungs empty for 4 seconds

Hold your breath gently with your lungs full for 4 seconds

Exhale through your mouth to empty your lungs by the end of the 4 seconds

Did you learn something new?

If this resource helped you discover fresh insights, imagine what consistent emotional intelligence growth could do!

Ready to dive deeper? Explore more free resources and take your development to the next level with a 7-day free trial of Mygrow. Get hands-on with our research-backed, practical tools and see how EQ growth can transform you.

If you're considering Mygrow for your organization, let's chat! Book a meeting today and explore how we can help your team build stronger leadership, reduce turnover, and create a flourishing workplace culture.

How does it work?

Does it really work?

